Hi, we first met Alexis in 2002 when we approached him to help our son study for the Johns Hopkins Center for Talented Youth exam. Alexis is above all, an educator. That's the defining characteristic that sets him apart, I think, from others in the test prep business. He truly understands the needs of children, how to work with them, and how to work in partnership with the student and the family to achieve their common goals. He has an unusual gift for motivating children and helping them understand how they need to work to succeed.

Alexis has helped us tremendously in terms of the results our children have achieved. Part of this is because he spends a lot of time with analyzing the results of tests; figuring out what worked and what didn't, and what gaps need to be filled. Alexis is methodical, organized, and has built a successful tutoring company, Prepped and Polished, that provides high quality academic coaching services. I have no hesitation at all. In fact, it's my pleasure to recommend Alexis. I'm very grateful to him for all the help he's provided our family over the years, and I wish him all the best with Prepped and Polished in the years to come.
